INTRODUCING THE AGA MERCURY INDUCTION RANGETOP

The AGA Mercury 36" & 48" induction rangetop is known for its bold design, contemporary details, zero-clearance facade and modern style cooking controls. Designed and built in the UK, this rangetop is a technical masterpiece, the embodiment of exquisite quality and stylish, thoughtful design. Fast, responsive and incredibly controllable, the induction rangetop is powered by electromagnetism, heating only the pan and its contents, providing up to 90% efficiency. Its surface retains minimal heat, making it safer for those with small children at home. Since the rangetop stays cool, spills will not stick or burn onto the surface, making cleaning a simple wipe-down.
